Cafetieres

Sumatra Gayo Single cafetiere - £2.40

These Fairtrade Gayo single origin beans are grown in the Aceh region of Sumatra. The high-altitude, cool climate and excellent soil conditions help produce an exceptionally intense coffee with a smooth lingering aftertaste.

Scotland's most famous murder case started here in the Botanics where Pierre L'Angelier, a seed merchant from the Channel Islands was staying with the then curator of the Botanic Gardens as a guest in this house. L'Angelier began an affair with Madeleine Smith who was later accused of poisoning him by feeding him cocoa laced with arsenic. She famously 'got off' through Scotland's verdict of 'Not proven'.
